

View to the Future

ONLINE | MAY 2–4, 2022

ARCHITECTURAL INSTITUTE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

CONFERENCE 2022

Looking ahead with purpose requires acknowledging where you are, at the current point in time. Whether planning a design, envisioning an idea, or contemplating “what’s next?”, it is critical to pause and reflect, to have a view to the future. It is not simply about moving forward, but also learning from the past to build a better tomorrow.

Much has changed in the world: now more than ever, it is imperative to keep current with technological and industrial innovation, and be responsive to professional and societal expectations.

Through the lens of View to the Future, AIBC Conference 2022 will explore these transformations and discuss the latest sustainable technologies, policies, design innovations, and matters influencing architectural practice.

KEYNOTES

Transformative Architecture
Presented by Ole Scheeren

Architecture and Truth and Reconciliation
Moderated Panel with Wanda Dalla Costa, Matthew Hickey, Alfred Waugh, Alanna Quock

Private/Public
Presented by Omar Gandhi

Indigenous Futurity: Re-Center, Re-Aggregate, Re-Frame
Presented by Wanda Dalla Costa

PEOPLE AND SOCIETY

I Was Asked to Stand
Innovative Housing for Women, by Women
Accessible Architecture: Beyond the Ramp

INNOVATION AND TECHNOLOGY

The Architecture of the Food System
Modular Design for Rapid Housing Delivery
Designing for the Future: Design Systems, Built-in Intelligence & Smart Construction

SUSTAINABILITY AND GREEN BUILDING

The Road to Net-Zero: Eliminating Embodied Carbon in Design by 2050
Sustainability Frontiers: BC Step Code in Action at Simon Fraser University
Canada’s First Industrial Passive House: Lessons Learned Four Years Later

CASE STUDIES

The Yunesit'in Wildfire House Prototype
The Oakridge Redevelopment: The Living City
Qaumajuq

... and MORE!

ARCHITECTURAL INSTITUTE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Learn more on conference.aibc.ca | MAY 2–4, 2022
ONLINE EVENT